

Student FAQs

Ameriprise Financial offers many career opportunities for current students and those approaching graduation. If you're ready to take the next step and explore a career with us, we'll be happy to get you started. Following are some frequently asked questions about how to take the next step toward your future at Ameriprise Financial.

Is Ameriprise Financial Coming to My Campus?

We attend events on college campuses across the country. You'll find our upcoming events at joinameriprise.com.

How Should I Prepare for an On-Campus Recruiting Event?

Be sure to attend the career fairs, information sessions and on-campus interviews held at your college. Plan ahead to speak with an Ameriprise Financial representative and be prepared to ask any questions you may have about the company and job opportunities. Bring your most current resume with you and leave a copy with the Ameriprise Financial representative.

What if Ameriprise Financial is Not Visiting My Campus?

You can always explore current opportunities at joinameriprise.com and apply online if you meet qualifications for the position. Be sure to include information about specific positions that interest you. The Campus Recruiting Team will review your qualifications and a recruiter will contact you to discuss your status.

What Does Ameriprise Financial Look for in a Candidate?

We value candidates who are well-rounded and have participated in various activities. Your leadership skills and relevant work experience will also be considered. In addition, you should be prepared to demonstrate your knowledge of Ameriprise Financial and understand what we do and what we sell. We also look for candidates who have a passion to succeed.

How Should I Prepare for an Interview with Ameriprise Financial?

You should know our company and our business. You should also be ready to discuss your strengths and weaknesses, your major accomplishments, what you seek in a job, and why you want to work at Ameriprise Financial. At the end of the interview, you'll have an opportunity to ask questions, so be prepared to ask about current issues that affect our business or things you'd like to know about the company.

Where is Ameriprise Financial Located?

The corporate headquarters of Ameriprise Financial and our affiliate, RiverSource, are located in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Our branch offices are located throughout the United States. To see a list of our branch offices visit joinameriprise.com.